Imago Relationship Training in Couples Therapy

Imago Clinical Training

Atlanta, GA

Session 1: February 22–25, 2018

Session 2: April 19–22, 2018

Session 3: August 23–26, 2018

Presented by:

Imago Senior Faculty Member

Wendy Palmer Patterson, LCSW, LMFT

Wendy is an internationally known Senior Faculty member and Master Clinical Instructor for Imago Relationships International. In addition to trainings in South Korea, Turkey, and New Zealand, Wendy has been training therapists in Atlanta, GA for over 20 years. Wendy is known for her warm, empathetic, and engaging training style.

Help couples quickly reconnect using Imago Relationship Therapy Tools based on the principles of Dr. Harville Hendrix and Helen LaKelly Hunt, co-founders of Imago Relationship Therapy and authors of Getting The Love You Want.

Why have over 2,000 trained to become Certified Imago Therapists?

- Based on psychological theories from Freud to Neuroscience, woven into dialogue-based interventions which deepen connection
- Lively and supportive worldwide community, with active local chapters, and a terrific annual conference, including Keynote speakers such as Dr. John Gottman, Dr. Dan Siegel, and Dr. Susan Johnson
- Referrals through the Imago Website— attracting 5,000 searches a month and 15,000 visitors
- Couples Practices reach new depths when our therapists learn to empower their couples, deal with crisis in a non-reactive way, and how to unravel years of destructive communication patterns
- But the real reason—it makes such a difference in the relationships of our therapists!

What Our Trainees Are Saying About the ICT:

“This training helped me get out of my head and into the art of being a therapist.”

“Imago training completely changed how I work with couples. It helped me enjoy couples work again.”

“Wendy’s teaching style is warm and approachable. She creates a level of warmth and acceptance that challenges you to go deeper in your personal and professional life.”
